

#653 Risk Communication

7 WATER & WASTEWATER CONTACT HOURS

The increased possibility of an unforeseen natural or man-made event happening can create a high level of concern in low trust situations. The need for Public Utility personnel to be able to communicate to their customers, their community and the media, is a necessary skill. This course addresses issues such as, crisis and emergency response and reduced customer confidence with the media.

Topics to be covered:

- Risk Communication Principles
- SDWA Risk Concepts & Program Communication Challenges
- Tools for Success
- Developing Key Messages
- Holding Public Meetings
- Crisis and Emergency Response
- News Media Relations
