

#TBA Pumping Systems Optimizing: Energy Efficiency and Bottom-Line Savings

 APPLIED FOR UP TO 10 WATER AND WASTEWATER CONTACT HOURS

Pumping systems account for a significant portion of a facility's energy use in many industries. In the majority of pumping systems, the energy added to the working fluid by the pump is much greater than required by the process. The excess energy added to the system generates heat, noise, and vibration that increase the system's maintenance costs in addition to the excess energy cost. The goal of the Course is highlight how total cost of ownership can be reduced through assessment and optimization. The course provides attendees practical knowledge on pumping system fundamentals and energy consumption, assessment methodology and prescreening, and how to approach system optimization to reduce total cost of ownership.

This course is being applied for up to 10 Water and Wastewater Contact hours.

You must attend both days to get contact hours.

Day 1 - 8:30-4:00 (Classroom Only)

Topics to be Covered:

- Benefits of Pump Assessment
- Pumping System Fundamentals
- Varying Flow Rate
- Integrated Process Measurement and controls
- Optimizing Pumping Systems
- Analysis Tools

Day 2 - 8:30-12:30 (On-site Pump Room- wear appropriate clothing and boots)

May 5-6, 2020

University Area Joint Authority
1576 Spring Valley Road
State College, PA 16801
Centre County

Class Time:

Day 1: 8:30 am - 4:00 pm

Day 2: 8:30 am - 12:30 pm

Registration: 8:00 am

MEET THE INSTRUCTOR

Hydraulics Institute

Since 1917, the Hydraulic Institute (HI) – has served pump manufacturers, pump system designers and consultants, and pump users by providing pump system standards and a forum for the exchange of industry knowledge and best practices. HI's Mission: Advancing the pump manufacturing industry by becoming the world's resource for pumping solutions by 1) Addressing Pump Systems, 2) Developing Standards, 3) Expanding Knowledge and Resources, 4) Educating the Marketplace, and 5) Advocating for the Industry. Pump Systems Matter (PSM) is a non-profit 501(c)3 educational initiative and subsidiary of the HI. PSM's Vision is to be the leading training authority on pumps and pumping systems, while being true to PSM's Mission of providing product-neutral training on energy efficiency, reliability, economics and effective application of pump systems.
